

The living room of the Nash residence, a 1946 English-country-style house in Washington, D.C., decorated by Nestor Santa-Cruz; the vintage sofa is upholstered in a Donghia linen, and the faux-leather wall treatment was inspired by a home of Ashley and Allegra Hicks's. The 19th-century screen and Directoire side chair are from Marston Luce Antiques, the vintage parchment cocktail and nesting tables are by Jean-Michel Frank, the wool rug is by Michaelian & Kohlberg, and the sisal is by Stark Carpet. See Resources.

